

1 c. City Council finds that personnel hearings and zoning hearings
2 involve factors not at play in other administrative processes. City
3 Council finds that personnel hearings should have a mechanism for 4 challenging the bias of hearing officers. To the extent of any actual or 5 perceived conflict between the IHO Ordinance and any previously
6 existing ordinance, even if the pre-existing ordinance is arguably more
7 specific on any particular topic or point, it is the intent of the City 8 Council that the IHO Ordinance shall prevail. Zoning hearings, which 9 have been recently adjudicated by the Independent Office of Hearings, 10 require a certain expertise and should be under the authority of the 11 Planning Department.

12 WHEREAS, The City Council further finds as follows:

- 13 a. The Independent Hearings Office has also conducted a significant 14 number of vehicle forfeiture hearings. The Court of Appeals has held 15 that the City's ordinance allowing for civil vehicle forfeiture is 16 preempted by state law, therefore ordinances governing forfeitures are 17 no longer in effect and shall be removed from the City code.
- 18 b. The City's Water Conservation Landscaping and Water Waste, Water
19 Conservation Large Users Ordinance, and Cross-Connection
20 Prevention and Control Ordinance are no longer in effect since the 21 Albuquerque Bernalillo County Water Utility Authority (ABCWUA)
22 separated from the City, and the City no longer conducts 23 administrative hearings to enforce subject matter of these ordinances.
- 24 c. Further review has revealed that, although the intent of the IHO was to 25 create a unified hearing procedure and process for most 26 administrative hearings, various procedures and processes for appeal
27 continue to exist in City Ordinances and there is a need for further 28 revision of the Independent Hearing Office Ordinance and other 29 ordinances containing administrative hearing processes.

1 rights. This division (2) shall not be construed to mean that an applicant has a
