SUBJECT: Department of Senior Affairs - Quarterly Update

In accordance with Resolution No. R-21-221, the Department of Senior Affairs (DSA) is providing this quarterly update regarding the Department's efforts to determine the internal staffing capacity and needs for implementing and executing the Age Friendly Action Plan; to build relationships and investment from community groups and organizations across the city; and to work across city departments to identify policy or programmatic change opportunities to meet the needs of Albuquerque's aging population.

Building the Advocacy, Engagement and Quality Control Team:

The Strategic Program Manager position has been filled by Agnes Vallejos, MBA. The search to fill this position was extensive and it was determined that Ms. Vallejos possesses the experience, education and expertise to lead this initiative, as she has been a leader in the aging field for over 17 years and has served the city as the Social Services Division Manager since 2019.

The creation and filling of the Strategic Program Manager position for DSA, and the realignment of supervision to include the Data Analyst II position, as well as newly created positions of an Outreach Coordinator and an Advocate Specialist, will assist the Department overall on work in relation to Resolution No. R-21-221.

During the past year, DSA established an 18-member Age Friendly Action Committee which is comprised of community members and DSA staff. This Committee, led by the Strategic Program Manager, meets monthly with members representing varied organizations, including the UNM Retirees Association, NM NEW, Senior Dot One, The Medicare Corner, AARP New Mexico, SAGE NM, Area Agency on Aging, APD and also includes small business owners, non-profit leaders and retired professionals.

Building Relationships and Investments:

Through the work of the Age Friendly Action Committee, 54 community partnerships were established to support the work of the initiative. Examples of these community partnerships include local and national non-profit organizations (Adelante, Alzheimer's Association, Mandy's Farm, Homewise, Catholic Charities, Equality New Mexico), private or for-profit companies including healthcare, insurance, funeral, companies and insurance companies (Comcast, BCBS NM, The Medicare Corner, Albertsons, Molina, Meals on Wheels). The committee is keeping partners and other ambassadors, well informed on the progress of the Age Friendly Action Plan and to equip them with targeted and useful information to expand their advocacy to make ABQ more Age Friendly.

Additionally, DSA is currently working with Richard Duncan, Executive Director of the RL Mace Universal Design Institute, made possible through a partnership with the AARP NM State Office, to develop a "scorecard" of available housing choices and limitations for our older adults. This technical assistance will aid DSA in contributing towards the work of Mayor Keller's Strategic Housing Initiative workgroup to address the housing considerations for Albuquerque's growing older adult population.

In partnership with the Department of Workforce Solutions, Veterans Affairs, as well as the City Human Resources Department, DSA worked collaboratively on efforts surrounding recruitment, education on the City's hiring process and emphasizing the need to employ older adults. Two job fairs were held at senior centers, and a pilot "return-ship" program tested at Manzano Mesa Multigenerational Center was designed to replicate a typical young adult internship. This back-to-work pilot program presented an alternative opportunity for an older adult returning to the workforce to update and build on the skills they already have.

DSA, in consultation with the City's Economic Development Department, has launched efforts to support Albuquerque's local economy by empowering older adults with skills and knowledge on how they may continue to have economic impact within the community. A series of free workshops, geared toward older adult entrepreneurs, a result of the inaugural Senior Artisan Fair, will launch education and learning labs on starting a business, including securing start-up financing, how to sell in a technological, transactional world and assisting older adults with resume writing and exploring life's "third chapter" to continue to earn money.

Building Recommendations:

DSA has steadily met with the City's Planning Department on their efforts of the Community Planning Area (CPA) assessment process and devising ways to engage more older adults in the conversation. This work includes targeted, intentional programming at centers to engage participants in community walks/assessments and tabling events designed to solicit older adult feedback from the neighborhood being assessed. The work with Planning has allowed the Department to identify opportunities for increased engagement and advocacy around issues related to the IDO - particularly affordable housing initiatives.

The Strategic Program Manager has connected with Department of Family and Community Services in support of their work to provide supportive and affordable housing options. Bringing an Age Friendly lens is beneficial to both departments; for example, a recent recommendation was made to include a Universal Design checklist in Requests for Proposals to developers, which allows consideration for what an aging population may need in order to find suitable housing.

Conclusion:

Our next council report will include an update on the Department's Strategic Plan. The Department's leadership has engaged Social Innovation Strategies Group to refine the strategic direction of the department. This work was initiated in June 2022 and will continue through the fall.

22 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL, THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE CITY
23 OF ALBUQUERQUE:

24 Section 1. The City Council will formally approve the One Albuquerque
25 Age-Friendly Action Plan.

26 Section 2. The Department of Senior Affairs will formally create an 27 advocacy, engagement and quality control team to help implement the Age-
28 Friendly Action Plan.

29 Section 3. The Department of Senior Affairs will work with the new team to 30 focus on three key areas: 1) building relationships and investment from 31 community groups and organizations working across the city, 2) assessing
32 the Department of Senior Affairs' current internal capacity to determine 33 staffing needs for implementing and executing the Age-Friendly Action Plan,

1 and 3) working across City Departments to identify any particular policy or 2 programmatic change opportunities as related to meeting the needs of 3 Albuquerque’s aging population.

4 Section 4. The Department of Senior Affairs and the new team will keep City
5 Council informed about the Department’s most recent efforts by providing 6 them with quarterly updates in the form of Interoffice Memorandums as well
7 as Annual Reports. While quarterly Interoffice Memorandums will be used to 8 update City Council on the internal work efforts of the Department of Senior
9 Affairs, the Annual Reports will include policy and/or programmatic 10 recommendations that could impact other departments’ work, such as 11 amendments to the Integrated Development Ordinance or priority projects in 12 the Capital Improvement Plan.

13 Section 5. The Department of Senior Affairs and the new team will regularly
14 meet with various City Boards and Commissions to evaluate and review
15 policy and programming that relates to meeting the needs of Albuquerque’s 16 aging population in order to incorporate their most recent efforts into the 17 Interoffice Memorandums and Annual Reports. These Boards and 18 Commissions include but are not limited to the Americans with Disabilities
19 Act Advisory Council, Older American’s Act Advisory Council, Senior Affairs
20 Advisory Council, and the Mayor’s Youth Advisory Council.

21 Section 6. The Department of Senior Affairs and the new team will continue 22 to develop 1) the age-friendly asset inventory and 2) community partner age-
23 friendly commitment statements. The age-friendly asset inventory provides 24 the City a comprehensive list of age-friendly programs and services from 25 private, public and non-profit and partners. The inventory is created from 26 community partners and City department commitment statements. With these 27 statements, community partners sign a commitment supporting an age-
28 friendly Albuquerque and list their age-friendly resources, services, and 29 programs. This inventory can grow to become an important database of City
30 and community-based aging resources and can assist Albuquerque’s aging
31 network, including the Bernalillo County Area Agency on Aging, in growing 32 alternative points of service for older adults.

1 Section 7. The Department of Senior Affairs will work closely with the 2 Office of Neighborhood Coordination, Office of Civic Engagement, and the 3 Office of Equity and Inclusion to identify best practices for coordinating 4 equitable outreach to community members and organizations and other
5 stakeholders.
