WHEREAS, the New Mexico Department of Workforce Solutions reports that more than 17,000 New Mexico workers filed for unemployment benefits since the crisis began, and that the secretary of the Department of Workforce Solutions reports that the department is anticipating as many as 67,000 new applications related to COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, US Census estimates that almost 1-in-5 Albuquerque residents already lived below the poverty line before the COVID-19 crisis; and

WHEREAS, the unanticipated loss of income and job-related health care amongst thousands of other residents adds many more individuals and families to the list of those most at-risk due to the loss of personal income, the decreasing availability of support services, continuing bills, and unanticipated health costs; and

WHEREAS, the City of Albuquerque has a robust and well-integrated community of non-profit, faith-based and volunteer organizations providing services to those most at-risk, but that those organizations face their own financial challenges to provide services to existing or expanded client needs; and

WHEREAS, Congress recently passed, and the President enacted, the CARES Act that provides for federal reimbursement of local expenditures related to COVID-19 not appropriated in the most recent municipal budget; and

WHEREAS, the City Council desires to reallocate previously budgeted funds for COVID-19 needs, including but not limited to grants to non-profits providing food, shelter, and health services for low-income and at-risk residents whose economic situation has been negatively impacted by the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the City Council, through Resolution R-19-211, approved the release of $1.192 million of general fund reserves and appropriated the amount to the Office of the City Clerk to pay for election costs related to the election, and a portion of these funds have not yet been expended and are available for re-appropriation.
