Lauren was born and raised in Santa Fe. She graduated from Mora High School in 1999 and went on to the University of New Mexico to earn a Bachelor of University Studies Degree in Intercultural Communication, which included field research with urban and rural youth in post-civil war Guatemala. During her undergraduate studies at UNM, she worked full-time advocating for education, housing, and immigrant families in low-income neighborhoods as a bilingual community organizer in Albuquerque. Between 2006-2010, she completed a Master's degree in Globalization Studies at Dartmouth University. She subsequently continued work in the San Francisco Bay Area. Lauren returned to New Mexico in 2015, and along with getting re-established in ABQ, has been involved in several community efforts in the last couple of years such as serving as a member of the steering committee for the Albuquerque Women's Rally in 2017 and serving on the board of the Huning Castle Neighborhood Association.
